
The story of John Henry

John Henry was born with a hammer in his hands.

He grew and became a strong man. Nobody was stronger than John Henry.

The railroad men needed help building the railroad tracks. John Henry came with a bigger hammer in his hand.

He hammered the big railroad spikes into the ground faster than any man.

Soon there was a race. John Henry hammered in the spikes a hammer in each hand

A mechanical hammer on a train hammered in the spikes. Who do you think will win?

John Henry and the train raced to the finish line both hammering faster and faster.

John Henry won. Nothing was stronger than John Henry, not even a machine.
